

Pricing & Market Intelligence Specialist (Contract based)

หน้าที่ความรับผิดชอบในงานของคุณ

About the Role

Turn market insights into pricing decisions that drive business performance. As our Pricing & Market Intelligence Specialist, you will support pricing strategy, monitor market competitiveness, and translate commercial data into actionable insights to strengthen profitability and support business growth.

Key Responsibilities

Pricing Strategy & Profitability

- Support the development and execution of pricing strategies aligned with business objectives, product portfolios, and trade channels.
- Monitor pricing competitiveness and brand margin potential, recommending pricing actions to balance market realities and profitability.
- Partner with Sales, Marketing, Finance, and other stakeholders to drive effective pricing implementation.

Market Intelligence & Competitive Insights

- Analyse market trends, competitor pricing, and industry developments to identify business opportunities and risks.
- Translate market intelligence into actionable recommendations to support commercial decisions.
- Coordinate market research and provide regular insights to management and Sales teams.

Pricing Operations & Commercial Governance

- Maintain accurate pricing and article master data in SAP, ensuring timely updates and resolution of pricing-related system issues.
- Manage periodic promotional and commercial policy payout calculations, validating data accuracy, eligibility, and compliance with approved policies.
- Collaborate with Sales, Finance, and Controlling to resolve discrepancies and deliver timely reporting and analysis.

What You Will Gain

- Exposure to pricing strategy, market intelligence, and commercial decision-making.
- Cross-functional collaboration with Sales, Marketing, Finance, and regional business stakeholders.
- The opportunity to translate data into insights that influence pricing competitiveness and business profitability.
