Main duties include:

- Review and propose policy and process changes in line with employment law and efficiency improvements.
- Support restructuring activity and guide managers through a fair process.
- Support ad hoc projects as and when required.
- Conduct exit interview for leavers and collate information gathered into a report to feedback to Head of HR for employee engagement projects.
- Review any flexible working requests cases with managers and advise HR Administrator accordingly to process.
- Support and guide managers through any performance management cases, disciplinaries and grievances.
- Support absence management processes, such as long term absence and capability reviews as well as liaise with Occupational Health provider for referrals, appointments and receiving reports.
- Support managers with tracking absence, return to work interviews and putting in place reasonable adjustments where required.
- Support each stage of the annual appraisal cycle.
- Support payroll process as and when required.
- Liaise with department managers/team leaders/supervisors to ensure a suitable induction plan and training is in place, carried out and documented, including ensuring new starters attendance at next available induction day.
- Arrange and facilitate the Company induction day for new starter groups on a quarterly basis.
- Ensure that managers are carrying out and recording monthly and end of probation reviews and any actions are implemented.
- Support managers with the full induction plan for new graduates and ensure the continuation of support, training and learning of graduates throughout the graduate scheme.
- Record all training and ensure that feedback forms are returned and recorded and feedback is shared with the relevant senior manager and/or Head of HR.
- Follow the defined Company procedure for gaining approval to recruit for roles as required.
- Liaise with the hiring Manager to understand the role and the knowledge, skills and qualifications required from candidates.
- Support Managers in producing well defined job descriptions and job
