

Leadership Internship - Summer

Ihre Aufgaben

Project Intern will be working on:

A leadership pipeline project

Project Description and Objective (Include what the Intern will be learning):

The Leadership Pipeline Program aims to identify, train, and develop high-potential employees for future leadership roles within the plant, ensuring a sustainable succession plan, enhancing team performance, and supporting the plant's growth. The intern will assess leadership needs by gathering input from employees and managers, design the program framework with clear phases, training modules, and mentorship opportunities, and develop training materials in collaboration with experts. They will also write a pilot plan, outlining steps, timeline, and success metrics for testing the program, and present the final deliverables, including recommendations for broader implementation. This project offers the intern hands-on experience in leadership development, strategic planning, and program design.

Outcome of Project (Goals of what the intern should accomplish):

The goal is to create a sustainable succession development plan that ensures a steady supply of skilled leaders, enhances team performance, and supports the overall growth and success of the plant. By providing a structured training plan, mentorship, and development opportunities, the program will equip employees with the necessary skills and competencies to take on greater responsibilities, contributing to the long-term strength and stability of the organization.
