

[Internship] - IT Project Analyst

Vaše náplň práce

We are seeking a proactive and motivated intern to join our team as an IT Project Analyst. This role involves supporting the planning, execution, and monitoring of IT projects. You will gain hands-on experience in project coordination, business analysis, testing, and cross-functional collaboration with team members across multiple countries.

Responsibilities:

1. Project Coordination

- Assist in organizing and facilitating project management activities, including scrum ceremonies such as sprint planning, daily stand-ups, retrospectives, and reviews.
- Coordinate with team members to track sprint progress and maintain scrum boards (physical or digital).

2. Business Analysis

- Collaborate with stakeholders to gather, document, and analyze business requirements.
- Create and maintain user stories, process flows, and other documentation.

3. Testing & Quality Assurance

- Support and conduct functional testing of web and mobile applications.
- Report and track bugs, ensuring quality standards and requirements of project deliverables are met.

4. Documentation

- Prepare and update project documentation, meeting minutes, and reports.
- Document requirements, workflows, and testing scenarios.

5. Support & Collaboration

- Provide support and work closely with cross-functional teams, including developers, designers, and QA testers, across multiple locations.
- Facilitate communication and coordination between team members.
