

Senior HR IT & AI Consultant (m/f/diverse) - REF80989D

工作职责

Are you a proactive professional with a passion for project management and driving digital transformation? This is your chance to make a meaningful impact by helping shape the future of global HR solutions at ContiTech.

Success in this role requires a strong customer-centric mindset and understanding of HR business processes - enabling you to turn complex requirements into intuitive, user-focused solutions that deliver real value.

What You'll Do

As a key player in our global HR IT team, you'll:

- Lead impactful projects across Master Data, Talent, Learning, Feedback, and Workforce Analytics Solutions
- Own your projects end-to-end: from roadmap to rollout, including stakeholder alignment, coordination of vendors and internal resources
- Manage budgets and ensure smart, strategic use of resources
- Drive innovation by exploring and implementing AI-powered features and automation within the HR tool landscape (e.g. SuccessFactors) and beyond
- Champion user experience by optimizing business processes and UI/UX design
- Promote knowledge sharing and best practices across our global communities

What Sets This Role Apart

- Strategic Impact: Influence the digital HR roadmap and contribute to high-visibility initiatives and projects
- Innovate for Progress: Explore impactful use cases for AI and automation in HR systems
- Global Collaboration: Work with diverse and talented teams around the globe
- Continuous Learning: Make use of countless learning opportunities to stay ahead of industry trends
