

Internal Auditor Automotive - Purchasing, Sales, Human Relations & Sustainability (m/f/d) - REF84776Z

Feladatok

We are looking for a new member (m/f/diverse) of our General Audit Team at Continental Automotive (Aumovio) in Frankfurt.

Our team consists of colleagues with a high diversity of nationalities, professional backgrounds and rich experience. We work together in an open, positive culture and operate in a complex environment full of opportunities to learn and grow.

The purpose of General Internal Audit is to strengthen Continental's ability to create, protect, and sustain value. We achieve this by providing independent, risk-based, and objective assurance and advice to the Executive Board as well as the Supervisory Board. The position has a focus on auditing in the area of Purchasing (non-production material), Sales, Human Relations and Sustainability.

As an internal auditor, you perform entity and functional audits of the Automotive organization and processes worldwide, with a focus on Purchasing, Sales, Human Relations and Sustainability topics. Your tasks and responsibilities include:

- Preparing for fieldwork, conducting interviews, evaluating business processes and analyzing data as part of a team in on-site and remote audits.
- Assessing compliance with standards, policies, procedures and legislation.
- Identifying process optimizations, risks, and overall improvement potentials.
- Consulting management in the development and improvement of internal processes and structures.
- Communicating findings and recommendations as well as monitoring their implementation.
- Participating in fraud investigations.
- Engaging in project work within General Audit and other central functions.

Profilja

- Academic degree in Business Administration, Law or a comparable qualification
- Several years of relevant professional experience, either in Internal Audit or in operational business - preferably in HR or Sustainability
- A strong sense of ownership, proactive attitude and a high degree of team orientation
- Strong analytical and communicative skills
- Good time management, task planning and prioritization within deadlines
