

IT Consultant – R&D Applications

Vos activités

You are seeking a new challenge at the interface of IT and R&D? This is your opportunity!

Join our dynamic Information Technology team as an IT Consultant in the R&D IT area. In this pivotal role, you will drive digital transformation, ensure operational excellence, and deliver impactful IT solutions.

Your key responsibilities are:

- Lead and support IT implementation projects (Agile, Waterfall, or Hybrid) within the R&D IT.
- Plan, execute, and deliver high-quality project outcomes on time and within budget.
- Identify, assess, and mitigate project risks and issues through proactive management.
- Lead project teams fostering teamwork
- Develop and execute stakeholder communication plans to ensure transparency and alignment.
- Ensure adherence to IT governance, standards, and compliance requirements.
- Be the IT partner of choice for our business customers by taking over technical consulting and ensuring best fit IT solutions.
- Oversee the operation, performance, and compliance of R&D applications, ensuring optimal availability and cost-efficiency.
- Coordinate with internal teams and external partners to manage application lifecycle and support.
- Build strong relationships with internal IT departments and key user groups to co-create strategic solutions.
