

Intern - Financial Analyst

Vos activités

The Controlling Department Intern supports the Plant Controller in monitoring, analyzing, and reporting financial performance. This role provides hands-on exposure to cost control, budgeting, forecasting, and financial analysis while helping ensure accuracy, transparency, and compliance in financial processes. The intern will work closely with Plant Controller to support data-driven decision-making.

- Assist in the preparation of daily, weekly, monthly, quarterly, and annual financial reports, including cost center, manufacturing, and variance analyses, and present findings to management and department leaders.
- Collect, validate, and analyze financial and operational data from multiple sources to ensure accuracy, completeness, and consistency in reporting.
- Analyze manufacturing variances, standard costs, fixed costs, and balance sheet items, identifying deviations from budget, forecast, or standard and supporting corrective actions.
- Investigate manufacturing cost issues and support the development of methods, processes, and programs to improve the plant's financial performance.
- Support the month-end closing, forecast, and budget processes, including reconciliations, variance analysis, and preparation of supporting schedules.
- Assist in the preparation of detailed budgets and forecasts, ensuring alignment with business objectives and plant financial targets.

Perform other duties and special projects as assigned by the Plant Controller.
