

Field Engineer - Truck Tire US South Region

Descrição da função

HOW YOU WILL MAKE AN IMPACT

SG10/11

***This is a remote-based field position. Candidates should be located in one of the following states: North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida or Mississippi***

Continental Tire is seeking a Field Engineer to join our Commercial Tire Technical Customer Service team. This remote-based role provides field technical support to Sales, dealers, and fleets by investigating product complaints, conducting training, and monitoring tire performance in real-world applications.

If you excel at problem-solving, communication, and hands-on technical work, this role offers a great opportunity to represent Continental in the field and strengthen customer relationships.

What You'll Do

1. Sales & Customer Support

Assist Sales in investigating product complaints by performing field inspections and providing technical recommendations to resolve customer concerns.

2. Product Performance Tracking

Monitor and report on the performance of targeted Continental commercial tire products in the U.S. market, identifying trends and opportunities for improvement.

3. Complaint Management

Document all complaints in the Global Complaint Handling System, maintain accurate records, analyze trends, and share insights with internal stakeholders.

4. Continuous Improvement Engagement

Identify systemic issues, escalate relevant topics into the continuous improvement platform, and participate in monthly review meetings to support corrective actions.

5. Training & Technical Education

Deliver technical training to Sales teams, fleets, and dealers on tire failure modes, inspection practices, and other relevant technical subjects.
