

Regional Production Planning Scheduler Coordinator

Náplň práce

How You'll Make an Impact

- Lead the implementation and adoption of standardized sequencing processes across plants through strong stakeholder engagement and targeted change initiatives.
- Drive continuous improvement by conducting regular process evaluations, defining strategic roadmaps, and ensuring sustainable process enhancements.
- Partner with plant sequencing teams, MSM, LKUs, RKUs, and cross-functional stakeholders (PO, PI, IE, PE, Production) to align on KPIs and elevate planning process maturity and efficiency.
- Act as a key influencer within the AM region sequencing community, fostering collaboration and contributing to the development of future standards.
- Own sequencing performance accountability, ensuring adherence to established standards that meet customer requirements and stakeholder expectations.
- Provide expert consultation and structured problem-solving support through in-depth process assessments, data analysis, and operational reviews.
- Guide plants through pilot and test phases, evaluating adjusted process steps and parameters to drive optimized outcomes.
- Develop and deliver impactful training programs, leveraging standardized documentation and enhancing learning through the Tire Campus platform with eLearning and video content.
- Strengthen onboarding and capability building by providing clear guidelines, training frameworks, and sequencing knowledge resources across locations.
- Champion knowledge sharing by building an engaged sequencing community, facilitating regional forums, and promoting best practice exchange with pathways to global adoption (e.g., PICR submissions).

NOTE: May not be inclusive of all work required and may be updated as needed.

THE ENVIRONMENT

- Safety is our highest priority and safety procedures / guidelines must be always adhered to. This includes safety wear such as steel toes, hearing protection and eye protection where required.
- This role takes place in a department with fluctuating temperatures and material exposure.
